

Selectmen Choose A Manager, But He Hasn't Said 'Yes' Yet

By Sue Aucella Deacon

The selectmen have named Bernard Murphy, city manager of Sanibel, Fla., as their choice to fill the town manager's position left vacant by Jared S.A. Clark six weeks ago.

But, Murphy, 40, has not yet agreed to accept the job. Chairman Norma Gammon said Tuesday she hopes contract negotiations will be successfully completed within the next few days so the board may formally appoint Murphy Monday night.

A native of Pittsfield, Mass., Murphy has served as manager of Sanibel since December, 1979. From January, 1978, through December, 1979, he was deputy city manager of operations in Gainesville, Fla. Murphy was also city manager of Auburn, Maine, from September, 1970, through January, 1978, after serving as that city's assistant manager for more than four years.

Murphy holds a master's degree in public administration from the University of Rhode Island and an undergraduate degree in government from the University of Massachusetts. A member of Phi Psi Alpha (a national political science honor society), he is married and the father of three children.

The secrecy in selecting a town manager damaged the board of selectmen's credibility.

An editorial — page 34

The selectmen released Murphy's name — along with those of the other three finalists for the manager's slot — Tuesday morning, under a Superior Court order.

Superior Court Judge Edward H. Bennett ordered the names released Tuesday after the Lawrence Eagle-Tribune last Friday filed suit to enjoin the selectmen's process of selection, seeking the names of

$25 Tax Rate Is Eyed

New Assessments Due In Andover Homes This Week

By Linda S. Corbett

Andover homeowners should be receiving their new property assessments this week, but Town Assessor William Russell urges people not to try to apply the old tax rate to their new values. Those figures could be catastrophic.

Russell says that is impossible to try to even estimate what the new tax rate will be, but that it will "definitely" be less than $25 per thousand of assessed valuation.

The current rate is $66 per thousand.

The new assessments, based on 100 percent fair market value as of Jan. 1, 1981, have been completed by PRC Jacobs, the firm hired by the town to do the revaluation, and certified by the state.

Russell said the assessments were made for nearly 9,000 residential properties.

The people most likely to be in for a surprise, he said, are those who have owned a house for a long time and haven't looked around for another. He said that even people who bought their homes a year ago will find their assessments higher than their purchase prices. He said housing values are inflating at a rate of about 13.5 percent a year.

The assessments, he noted, have nothing to do with the tax bills. They will be forthcoming.

Among other things, the town is waiting on completion and certification of some 400 commercial and industrial properties

Program Advisors Now Complete

The school committee Tuesday night rounded out its roster of "program advisors" who will provide K through 12 articulation and school-to-school coordination in the basic subject areas.

Michael R. Cave of Wellesley was named foreign language program advisor and Daniel C. LeClerc of Cambridge, social studies program advisor.

Both will receive salaries of $26,500 for the coming year.

Already on board as program advisors are Diana Kolben, fine arts; Dick Swift, physical education; Annetta Freedman, media services; Theresa Murphy, reading; Peter Anderson, language arts; James Murphy, math and Rita Petrella, science.

The program advisor philosophy eliminates department heads in the secondary schools, returning those people full-time to the classroom.

Cave brings 11 years of secondary and college experience to the system; for the past year he has been chairman of the foreign language department for Acton-Boxborough schools. He holds a B.A. degree in Spanish from Southern Connecticut State College in New Haven, and masters and Ph.D. degrees in Spanish literature from the University of Connecticut. He has also taken courses in educational administration at Harvard's Graduate School of Education.

LeClerc has been a social studies teacher at Chelmsford High School for 11 years, three of those years as social studies team leader. He has taught on the secondary and college levels since 1966.

LeClerc received his A.B. degree in humanities from Merrimack College, his M.A. in history from Northeastern and his CAGS in social education from Boston University.

Four More Bus Routes Approved

The school committee Tuesday night awarded three more contracts for regular bus routes and a kindergarten route for Bancroft School.

The regular routes had to be added because of a recent school committee decision to cut back from the 70 miles a day they originally envisioned, to 60 miles. Transportation Assistant Kathy Casey noted, however, that the money for the routes is provided in the budget.

Charles Kent of North Andover was awarded one route at $65 per day and 95 cents per mile extra mileage, while Albert Vartabedian of 64 Bellevue Road was awarded two routes at $74 per day each, and $1.10 per extra mile.

William Piercy, 273 No. Main St., was awarded the kindergarten route at $28.45 per day, and 90 cents extra mileage.

Early Release Days Get Committee Nod

Four "early release days," which will give school staff an opportunity for "development activities," were given the okay by the school committee Tuesday night.

On those four days — tentatively set for Oct. 5, Nov. 2, March 22 and May 3 of the coming school year — pupils will be let out after half a day of classes, allowing teachers to take part in workshops, grade level or department level meetings, brush-up presentations and the like.

Asst. Supt. Charles Mitsakos told the school committee that the four early release days had been proposed in the various school calendar alternatives, but were somehow omitted when the final calendar was adopted.

In recent years, he said, one full release day has been the rule in Andover, and the new plan adds up to only a day and a quarter off for teacher projects.

It's "very common in other communities," he noted, to have as much as a day off per month.

Bike-A-Thon

On Sunday, Aug. 30, The Bicycle Repair Collective and the Massachusetts Public Interest Research Group will sponsor a Bike-A-Thon for the Bottle Bill. The event is a scenic ride designed to demonstrate public support for the Bottle Bill and to raise funds to cover the costs of the 1981 Bottle Bill Campaign.

For more information on how to participate, call Masspirg in Boston.

Nancy Collins Joins Big Band In Park

Nancy Collins

Localite Nancy Collins will join Peter Turnbull and his orchestra in Central Park Wednesday, Aug. 19, at 6:30 p.m. in a concert of big band music.

The concert is sponsored by the Department of Community Services and funded, in part, by the Music Performance Trust Fund and Local 372 of the Greater Lawrence American Federation of Musicians.

The Turnbull Orchestra has been bringing the big band sound to the area for the last four years.

Collins, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Roger W. Collins of Andover, and a graduate of Andover High School, was described in Variety as "a gal who rates watching (and is easy to watch)." She began her musical career at age 14 under the direction of her grandfather, J. Everett Collins.

After 10 years of working around the world with a variety of musical organizations, including the Glen Miller Orchestra, she has returned to live and work in Andover.

Turnbull, a native of Blackpool, England, is conductor/arranger of the band. In England he played with Ivor Kirchin, Oscar Rabin and Jimmy Bence, and was musical director for Jayne Mansfield on her tour of Britain. His big band experience in the U.S. includes the Hal McIntyre and Count Basie bands, and he has played backup for Tom Jones, Engelburt Humperdink, Dick Haynes, Sandler & Young, Freddie & the Dreamers, Herman's Hermits, Lulu, Shirley Bassey, the New Seekers, Gene Pitney and Dana.

Other area musicians from the Turnbull Orchestra are saxophonist Paul Wagner, trumpeter Bill Scism, both professors at Berklee College of Music, and saxophonist Phil Scarff.

The band also includes alumni from Stan Kenton, Buddy Rich, Maynard Ferguson, Woody Herman and Glenn Miller.

Lectures For Laymen At LGH

A three-part series of medical lectures entitled "Your Health: It's in Your Hands" will be presented this fall by the medical staff of Lawrence General Hospital.

Open to the public free of charge, the series will be held in the hospital's Kurth Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. each evening.

Dr. Rudolph Muto, a resident of Andover with offices in Lawrence, will speak Tuesday, Sept. 15. A thoracic surgeon, Dr. Muto will focus on lung cancer and smoking, but also discuss emphysema and other respiratory diseases related to smoking.

On Oct. 27 Dr. Norman C. Goldberg of Haverhill and Dr. N. Hakan Thyresson of Bradford will discuss skin cancer, the most common cancer disease and its causes, treatment and prevention.

The concluding lecture will be by Dr. Cecilia B. Castelo, an Andover psychiatrist. Her topic will be "When Life Gets Tough" and will focus on depression, marital problems, alcoholism and causes of mental illness.

Each talk is followed by a question and answer period, allowing specific concerns from the audience to be addressed.

Neighbors Express Concern About New Development

Wyncrest Development Corp.'s preliminary plans for a new 17-house subdivision off Ballardvale Road have sparked some concern among residents of the neighboring Millstone Circle development.

About 20 residents, many of them Millstone residents, attended a Planning Board public hearing on the proposed development Tuesday night at the Essex Street theatre building. The back lot lines of their property would abut the back lot lines of the new subdivision.

Engineer Bill MacLeod of Andover Consultants, Methuen, representing the developer, said the new homes would be built around a cul-de-sac in a cluster development, on a 22.3 acre parcel located between Sunset Rock Road and Enfield Drive. The parcel, part of a 100-acre lot, was sold by the Henry Jenkins family; the rest of the land will remain with the family.

With a special permit for a cluster development, the developer could build smaller lots, but would be required to preserve an area of open space. There would be 6.7 acres of open land on the proposed development, MacLeod said, most of it wetlands.

The subdivision would be served by a septic system — already approved by the Board of Health — and the developer would build a sidewalk on Ballardvale Road, from the development to Enfield Drive, he added.

Developer Douglas Wacome of Wyncrest said the houses would be sold for "under $200,000" and would be designed as "something a little bit different" from Wyncrest's other developments in town, which include Blueberry Hill. He suggested that the houses may be similar to homes on Hilton Head Island, N.C.

One Millstone Circle resident described the North Carolina homes as "neo-Ante Bellum. They wouldn't fit in with the colonial homes in that area at all," he commented.

MacLeod, when questioned by Chairman David Gravalles, assured the planners that there would be "minimal" soil and tree removal because that would "devalue the property. We will cut the least number of trees and alter the landscape as little as possible," he said. "This isn't going to be a land-clearing operation."

The developer is also considering granting a sewer easement to the town along the edge of the subdivision open space, MacLeod said, because the town's master sewer plan calls for building a sewer trunkline there. Granting the easement now would save the town from having to take it by eminent domain in the future, he explained.

Richard Foley of 4 Millstone Circle questioned plans to provide drainage for the new development, explaining that there are already drainage problems on the street. "I would like to be assured that these storm drains are not going to run onto my property," he told MacLeod.

The engineer replied that the subdivision drainage "in no way is going to be impacting on Millstone Circle."

Abutters also questioned plans to extend the water main in the area into a loop; the main currently ends on Ballardvale Road. Residents said extending the line would disturb the land and cause "considerable aggravation to abutters."

But MacLeod explained that Public Works Director Robert McQuade asked that the water main be extended because he prefers not to leave water mains dead-ended.

Millstone Circle residents asked the developer to repair a stone wall, which serves as a boundary line between their property and the proposed development, to its original state when the construction is completed. They charged that the wall has already been "defaced" during the builder's preliminary site work.

Wacome agreed to that request.

And Everett Dearborn of 175 Summer St., who said he owns a nine-acre lot abutting the southerly end of the proposed development, wondered whether he would retain his right of way through the development to reach his land.

That right of way belongs to Dearborn by deed, the engineer said, and the builder could "not hinder you from using the right of way."

"How do we maintain our access?" Dearborn asked. "Who's going to buy a house lot with a road through it?"

Gravalles pointed out that, according to a legal opinion concerning the recently-approved Pole Hill subdivision in Ballardvale, the right of way issue would have no bearing on the planners' decision.

"If you want to protect your rights, get an attorney," he advised Dearborn. "Unfortunately, we can't help you out, except to urge you to get together to work something out."

The planning board has until Sept. 5 to approve or disapprove the preliminary plans. If the plans are approved, the developer will then submit definitive plans for the subdivision.

Gravalles emphasized that the development will be under discussion by the planners for some months to come.

The summer's often heavy rainstorms require extra caution on the part of motorists. The ALA Auto and Travel Club advises you to drive through deep puddles very slowly, then test your brakes immediately. If they fail to hold, drive awhile with your foot on the brake pedal. The resulting friction will dry the brake lining.

Hearing Loss Is Topic

H.E.A.R. — Hearing Education and Rehabilitation, will be the topic of a lecture Aug. 19 at 3 p.m. at the Regional Health Center in Billerica, 76 Treble Cove Road.

The elderly should find this presentation particularly informative as topics discussed will include: the characteristics of hearing loss due to the aging process; the truth about hearing aids — what they can and cannot do; how to be assured of getting the correct hearing aid and the appropriate fit. Also presented will be alternative communication means, such as speech reading, which are available to the hearing impaired through aural rehabilitation programs.

The speaker will be Debra Severson, audiologist at the New England Rehabilitation Hospital, Woburn. Severson has presented her H.E.A.R. lecture to many groups in the greater Boston area.

Hearing loss is one of the greatest health problems in the U. S. today, with an estimated 16 million individuals suffering from some type of hearing disability. Of this total, more than 50% are persons over the age of 65. Most people with hearing loss can be helped, either through the use of hearing aids or through hearing rehabilitation.

There is no charge for the lecture. However, as space is limited, interested individuals should call 667-2590 to make a reservation.

the four finalists interviewed last week.

The other finalists are Dennis Hannon of Massachusetts, Ronald Owens of Rhode Island and James Westman of New Jersey.

The selectmen now fear that if Murphy does not accept the post, they will have to start the selection process "all over again," Gammon indicated Tuesday.

"We can't call our second choice now," she said. "We'll have to go back out and start all over again. Basically, we'll have lost six weeks because of all this nonsense." The selectmen had planned to have a new manager on board by the end of September.

The newspaper held that the board was required to disclose the candidates' names in light of a 1978 state Supreme Judicial Court ruling that ordered the Northampton school committee to reveal the names of 16 finalists for the school superintendent's position.

But the selectmen, represented in the Peabody courtroom by Town Counsel Alfred Daniels, argued that the candidates had requested that their names be withheld to protect their privacy.

"They had asked that their names not be released because it would jeopardize their jobs in their communities," Gammon explained. "Now these candidates are upset, and their city councils where they are working are disturbed."

Judge Bennett issued a temporary restraining order last Friday to prevent the selectmen from choosing one of their final four candidates, Daniels said.

But that order was dismissed when the case was continued Monday morning, after Daniels showed that the selectmen had already made their choice before the restraining order was served.

The board decided to offer the job to Murphy at 9:30 p.m. last Thursday, Gammon said, during a meeting called to discuss the candidates and review their applications. The selectmen had been expected to call two finalists back for second interviews this week, and then make their decision by mid-week.

"The court action had no effect whatsoever on our decision," the chairman maintained. "When the court action stated we had to stop all procedures, we actually had made our selection. The only effect was on the candidates themselves."

The judge also asked Daniels to submit affidavits from the four candidates on Monday, to explain why their names should not be released. Over the weekend, Daniels said, Acting Town Manager Tony Torrisi contacted each candidate to ask if his name could be released. All four asked that their names continue to be withheld, according to Daniels.

On Monday Judge Bennett ordered "the name of the winning candidate" to be released along with "the name of the candidate from Florida," and ordered the

Murphy Wasn't Offered Job In '78 Selectman Says

One selectman who participated in the hiring of former Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark in 1978 has termed "a lot of nonsense" a report published elsewhere that Bernard Murphy of Sanibel, Fla., the board's choice as new manager, refused the job in 1978.

Selectman Edward Harris said he had "never heard of" Murphy before the board began searching for a replacement for Clark, who resigned June 30.

The manager's position "wasn't offered to anybody except Jared Clark" in 1978, Harris said. "Everybody agreed on Jared."

"other two candidates" to appear before him within 24 hours to "show cause why their names should not be released."

Daniels said he advised Gammon to release all the names Tuesday morning.

The chairman said the selectmen were "concerned" that the legal action cost the taxpayers "so much money. We had to have Al Daniels go to court twice. And all this was stopping the progress of the town — we are duly-elected officials, we were told to find a new town manager, and they (the newspaper) were stopping that."

The selectmen considered filing a countersuit against the paper, but will probably not because it would "just waste more of our time and the taxpayers' money," Gammon added.

The newspaper has also charged the selectmen with violating open meeting laws by not interviewing and considering the candidates in public meetings. Notices of the interviews with the candidates, posted in town hall, included dates but not times of the meetings, according to the paper.

Gammon said the selectmen interviewed two candidates last Tuesday and two last Wednesday, met to discuss the candidates last Thursday, and met with Daniels last Friday and Monday of this week to discuss the court case. All but the meetings with Daniels were public meetings, with the dates posted 48 hours in advance as required by law, she said.

No times were listed on the posted no-

11 THE TOWNSMAN, AUGUST 13, 1981

Selectmen Reply

To The Citizens Of Andover:

In the August 11, 1981, issue of the Lawrence Eagle Tribune there appeared an editorial under the heading, "Andover Selectmen." It then goes on to comment upon the procedure followed by the Board in carrying out its responsibility to choose a new Town Manager. May we briefly set forth certain facts which appear to have been ignored:

1. The Board of Selectmen consists of elected officials of the town.
2. Section 3(a) of the Andover Town-Charter (Chap. 571, G.L.) reads as follows:

Manager

posted," she maintained.

Daniels commented that the hiring of a town manager is "an executive process, not a legislative one. The selectmen, by charter, pick the town manager."

The town counsel said he had "mixed emotions" about the law that required the candidates' names to be released.

"You have to balance the equities," Daniels explained. "The public probably does have a right to know — but at the same time, what about the poor guy who wants to better himself? Why should a fellow jeopardize himself?"

The selectmen retained a Durham, N.H. consulting firm, the New England Municipal Center, to screen applications for the manager's position. The selectmen choose their finalists two weeks ago from among 13 top candidates recommended by consultant Carl VanAsselt. The consultant said 51 applicants had applied for the job.

Former Town Manager Clark resigned June 30, in the third year of a five-year contract, to become a marketing representative for IBM.

The Selectmen shall appoint a Town Manager as provided in section six, who may thereafter be removed as provided in section eight.

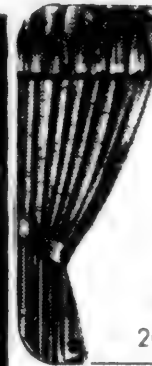

3. The meeting of the Board of Selectmen at which the final determination of the winning candidate was made adjoined at 9:30 p.m. on August 6, 1981. It was an open meeting at which no representation of the media was present.

4. Case law, particularly the so-called

The rate of interest is based on the yield of 2½ year government securities as determined bi-monthly by the Treasury Department. The effective yield applies when interest is left on deposit for a twelve month period. Early withdrawal requires the bank's consent, and is subject to interest penalty in accordance with Federal regulations.

Effective: August 11-August 17

$10,000 Minimum Deposit Required

Federal regulations prohibit compounding of interest for Six-Month Money Market Certificates within the term of the certificate. # Andover Woman Logs In A New Career

A Running Account

By Sue Aucella Deacon

It's a familiar story: a young mother, after a few years away from the working world, decides it's time to rev up her skills again. But when the urge hit Joan Buschmann of 44 Dascomb Road last winter, she didn't turn to the help wanted ads.

She turned to her husband, Ralph, for inspiration instead. And what she saw was a one-time New England champion long-distance runner who still runs to work in Lowell every day, 10 miles each way.

The result was the One Year Huff 'n' Puff Runner's Log, designed and illustrated by Joan Buschmann, and now on sale at bookstores, sporting good stores and gift shops throughout the area.

Buschmann has spent the summer marketing her 52-week runner's log, which has been printed by Towne Printing of Andover, and she hopes sales will start to pick up speed as the gift-giving season approaches.

A graduate of Endicott College, Beverly, she has worked in advertising and educational art for two publishing houses, Addison-Wesley of Reading and Houghton-Mifflin of Boston, and has freelanced as well. But in recent years, Buschmann has dedicated most of her time to her children, Wayne, 12, Brenda, 8, and Erika, 2.

"I was looking for some way to use my talent," the soft-spoken Buschmann explains as she rearranges Erika on her lap. "I thought I'd better get going again. It was building and building — and then it had to happen."

When it happened, Ralph Buschmann was available for creative inspiration. A runner since his Army days, he was a New England champion many times over during the '60s. He finished seventh in the 1965 Boston Marathon, and was the first American runner to cross the finish line.

The Buschmanns were married in 1967, and Joan spent "one year married to a runner in training" before Ralph relaxed into running simply for enjoyment. "I have a pretty good feel for the amount of effort that goes into training and staying at the top," she says. "A lot!"

So the idea of creating a runner's log emerged as one way to "combine my talents with his," Buschmann recalls. "Doing something most familiar seemed like the way to get the most enjoyment out of it — and I wanted to do something useful."

Working at night ("after the kids were settled down — I was surprised I found the time") she began designing the log in January, and completed it in three months. The log is printed in brown ink and bound with a plastic binding so that it lies flat when open.

It includes one page for each week in a year, with spaces to record information on one workout each day of the week: the date, time, temperature, humidity, wind, total miles run, and other comments on the day's exercise. The pages are not dated, unlike a calendar, so a runner could begin the log at any time.

The log also features 12 captioned pencil sketches of situations familiar to every runner from the Saturday jogger to the Boston Marathon — dogs, hills, cars splashing through puddles. Buschmann's runners, whether crouched at a crowded starting line or enjoying a solitary run along the beach, come in every size, shape and description.

"It's been eye-opening to me, how many people are involved in running," Buschmann says, noting that the sport has "opened up completely" since her husband's racing days. A photograph of a starting line taken during the mid-60's shows only white, male faces, she says — but the drawing she made from that photo for her log reflects the fact that all kinds of people are runners today.

The log would be useful to all but the most serious runner, Buschmann says, who might need space for more than one workout a day. But Ralph Buschmann "carries his with him wherever he goes," finding it more convenient than the old notebook he used to fill with "a lot of little scribbles." And Wayne, who recently ran his first road race (a two-mile event in Lowell) has started keeping a log as well.

After she had 500 copies of Huff 'n' Puff printed in April, Buschmann set out on a little roadwork of her own, trying to persuade stores to carry the log. "It's been difficult to market with three kids," she admits. "It's been a little slow."

But starting with the "tourist attractions, places where running is popular," she succeeded in placing the book in stores in Salem, Mass., Newburyport, Rockport and Wakefield. In Andover, it can be found at Mixed Company or the Andover Book Store.

Her next targets are Lowell and Boston. Buschmann also hopes to sell the log at road races, and eventually as a mail-order product advertised in national magazines.

"I've been learning a lot about marketing," she says. For instance, she soon learned it was wiser to drop in on a store manager unannounced than to call ahead. "If I called, there was always some excuse for why they wouldn't be there later. I found I got a better response if I went in directly."

Despite the inevitable rejections, Buschmann has kept a positive attitude. "One closed door only means that there's another door that will be opened," she maintains. "I'll keep trying. The whole project keeps unfolding — whether I sell any copies or not, I always come back with one or more good ideas for promoting the log."

But while selling her project has been "a good experience," Buschmann admits she is glad the "initial break-through is over. It's been a little unnerving," she says with a smile.

Ballardvale

Monday brought the fun and excitement of good sports to the Ballardvale Playground when all the playgrounds brought their teams for the annual competition. Ballardvale did well thanks to the valiant efforts of Michelle Bolin, Lisa Hayes, Reji Hayes, Beth Ross, Amanda Hughes, Shannon Cassidy, Billy Cropper, Jason Olson, B.J. Parker, Scott Sarcione, Steve Sarcione and Cathy Guiliani. Congratulations to Shawsheen and Sanborn, who share this year's championship.

Tuesday was a hot one, so quiet activities ruled the day. Julie Madden, Beth Ross, Michelle Bolin and Amanda Hughes enjoyed the arts and crafts projects, which included gimp braiding and construction paper pictures. Wednesday Cathy Guiliani, Shannon Cassidy, Michelle Bolin and the Hughes crew went to see the Poobley Greedy Puppet Show. Back at the playground, the Townsends, Landrys, Hayes, Leanna Mills and Sally Mana enjoyed a rousing kickball game and capture the flag. Thursday some very creative finger painting was done. A number of games were played, including 4 square, time bomb and telephone. Week number six ended with another famous Ballardvale cookout.

Bancroft

This week was more fun than ever! It started off with an explosive day at the Ballardvale Playground good sports competition, where everyone was a winner. The following participated: Jelly Bean Contest - Barry Connors, Greg DeBeer. 3-legged Race - Ryan Murphy, Rob Moody. Shoe Scramble - Billy Batcheler, Greg DeBeer. Clothes Relay - John Saalfrank, Kyle and Ryan Murphy, the Duke, Joey Hastings, Peter O'Leary. Obstacle Course - Billy Batcheler, Billy Dalton. Pie Eating - Robert Manning, Bridget Murphy. Trivia test - Candie Kirkiles, Mike Giamusso. Basketball Foul Shooting - Jackie Dalton.

Thursday was a fantastic stuffed animal show. Winners were: Best Elephant, Jordie Wilner; Best Flying Dog, Megan O'Handley; Best Square Dancing, Vance Smith; Best Ocean Dwelling, Darlene Porachniack; Most Acrobatic, Steve Porockmack; Best All Around, Beth and Maura Everett—for their Snoopys; Best Ape, Sharon Hastings; Misty Award, Susan Abramson; Most Versatile, Joey Hastings, Theodore, who won something for the Cutlers, and the Beebe's animals who really added something to the contest. Maura Everett and Greg DeBeer were also among the big winners. Friday was "Preppy Day," thus concluding another week at fabulous Bancroft playground.

Bancroft Pre-School

Tuesday was "Star Wars" Day at Bancroft Pre-School and some of the costumes were out of this world. There were many Luke Skywalkers, Princess Leas and Darth Vaders. The Force was with us as we fought off the storm troops and the evil Darth. The space ships made were great! Some of them looked like they were ready to take right off. Thank you to all those who brought in "Star Wars" games, stories and toys to share.

Wednesday Sanborn Pre-school paid a visit for a morning of fun and games. Afterwards everyone went to the puppet show and learned all about whales and whaling. Thursday t-shirts were tie-dyed, which was quite a job but well worth it. Friday was another sprinkler party and a hike.

Sanborn Pre-School

Sanborn Pre-School's second summer session got off to a great start with two field trips, one to Bancroft School for a puppet show, the other to the library and Friendly's. Many other activities were enjoyed by all throughout the week. Clothespin men, marshmallow men, pet rocks, t-shirt making and sand jar art were especially enjoyed by Eileen Duly, Randy and Adam Stanco, Elaine Yee, Christopher White and Steven Bardsley. To end the second week with a bang, everyone participated in pajama day. Some who came in their pajamas were Nikki Bilwakesh, Andy Torrisi, Sean Barry, Suzanne Leonard, Jay Levine and David Lipman. The staff served a delicious pancake breakfast.

Sanborn

The Good Sports competition held at the Ballardvale playground Monday was a smashing success. Sanborn Playground produced many winners such as Timmy Lin and Kevin Barry, who retrieved the sneakers to obtain a first place standing in the shoe scramble. Rich Atkinson, Todd Blaustein and Jim Reagan also made our playground proud with a first place winning in the balloon break relay. Chris Eggert proved he is a number one foul shooter by achieving the first place position in the basketball competition. Star competitor was Andrew Bedell, who got first place in two events; pie eating and donut eating. Other superstars who got second and third place in many other events were Jeff Kuo, third; Jeff Leonard, third; Jim Reagan, third; Rich Atkinson, third; Caira Workman, third; Beth Lucy, third; Walter Anderson, second; Susan Wood, third; Jeff Kuo, second; Steph Kuo, second; Kevin Barry, second; Todd Blowstein, second; Chris Workman, third; Mike Blowstein, third; Susan Wood, third; and Jeff Leonard, second.

to congratulate us for being tied with them in the good sports competition. They stayed for a few hours playing bombardment and making colorful salt jars. Wednesday and Thursday were pretty quiet because of the rainy, humid weather. Friday was a great day with perfect weather for a cookout, ice cream party and a Halloween party. To top it all off, a photographer came to take pictures for the Townsman.

Shawsheen

The week started with the Good Sports Competition. Kim and Frank Byrne, staff at Ballardvale, did a fantastic job of running the event. Both Shawsheen and Sanborn deserve congratulations for tying for first place. Outstanding jobs were done by all. Cara and Jenna DeMarco came in third in the shoe scramble; Ann Marie Charland tied for first in the trivia test, with Aimee Ross second; Kelly Ross won the still walking contest; and Jeff Hamilton and Aimee Ross did well in the obstacle course. Colin Arsenault, Vicki Arthur, Jeff Hamilton and Anna O'Day all put in a valiant effort in the balloon stuff. The balloon relay team of Mary Austin, Paul Bellevance and Kelly Ross came in second. The two teams in the 3-legged race, Aimee and Kelly Ross, and Cara and Jenna DeMarco, both came in first. Ann Marie Charland won the donut eating and Jenny Landry came in third. The clothes relay team of Aimee Ross, Vicki Arthur and Chris Harding, and the jelly bean guess team of Anna O'Day and Cara DeMarco did well. Vicki and Pete Arthur came in fourth in licorice eating and Jenna DeMarco and Patrick Harding came in second. Both egg toss teams of Kelly Ross and Ann Marie Charland, and Jeff Hamilton and Colin Arsenault, came in second. Pete Arthur won frisbee golf and Chris

Harding came in second. Kelly Ross came

Never Kenneled Your Dog Before???

"About 1965, I went in search of a place to board my 3 dogs. I didn't want them in a hospital or a cage. Most kennels caged their dogs and conditions were repulsive to me. I cancelled my vacation. I had a small building that I converted with "stalls and runs." Cost (those days)— $800, capacity, 11 dogs. I put in this building what I wanted my own dogs to have. That was the beginning of TEE-EMM'S KENNEL. Capacity now 513 Dogs and Cats (separate floors.) We are now putting up a new modern building (our 5th) that will be completed this spring. It will be SUPER BEAUTIFUL. We are indeed very proud of it and a dream has come true."

in second in the pie eating, while Jeff Hamilton didn't fare quite as well. Jeff did much better in the soccer grape toss, as he and Ann Marie Charland came in second. Anna O'Day and Cara DeMarco both won the bubble gum blowing. Paul Bellevance came in third in the basketball shooting. The human machine and tug of war was joined in by all.

The children at Shawsheen all did a fantastic job and the staff wants to tell them that they are proud of them. Monday was full of excitement and enjoyment. On Tuesday the bike hike was to Rose Glen Dairy and then to Sanborn playground. Wednesday we travelled to Bancroft to see "Going, Going, Gone Whaling." Thursday was a quiet day as crafts were done. The week ended with the weekly cookout.

South

Monday was Good Sports Day at Ballardvale. We didn't win, but we were all good sports about it. Mark and Eliza Edelsburg were first in the licorice whip eating contest while Ann Murname won the jelly bean guess. Kelsey Hanry was the winner of the pie eating contest. Everyone deserves a big cheer for all the effort and good sportsmanship show. Tuesday there was a bike ride to the bird sanctuary. Diana Dresser was one of the star bike riders, along with Sean and Jennifer Howard. Denny Godwin and Mark Angelos enjoyed their picnic lunches on top of a giant rock at Rabbits Pond. In the meantime, Joey Liqorski, Mark Edelsburg, Dennis Aikman and Aaron Johnson were catching frogs. It was a great time for all.

Wednesday the day started off with some four square before going to the puppet show. Emily and Becky Holt thought the puppet show was great, along with Chip Curdo. Then came Thursday, a day everyone was excited about — Everyone's Birthday. Everyone did a great job decorating cakes; they all looked great but tasted better. Friday was Halloween Day.

West Elementary

Good Sports competition started the week off. Thanks to Ballardvale Playground for hosting the day. West staff would also like to thank their playgrounders for participating and for showing true sportsmanlike behavior. Tuesday was leather craft day. Some of our best leather weavers included Adam Ferry, Bill Hoffman, Layne Whitley, Debby Flashenburg, Steve Paro and Suzie Bromburg. Wednesday brought with it a field trip to a puppet show at Bancroft. All who went had an enjoyable time.

Thursday was a Poms field trip. A few of the older playgrounders, such as Mike and Chris Lane, Craig Flashenburg, Eric and Sean Freise, Heather Paro and Suzie Harritigan rode their bikes to the Pond. The rest took the bus. A staff versus kids' football game was the highlight of the day. A few outstanding football players included Holly and Adam Ruma, Sean Sperber, Matt and Ryan Abernathy and Steve Paro. Friday was circus day. The children picnicked and enjoyed a variety of games. Everyone at West is looking forward to the ice cream buffet with parents.

SPARC Park

Events at Sparc Park have included a TV day in which Beth Madden came as Carol Brady of the Brady Bunch. Scott Silva won best costume for his outstanding resemblance to Klinger in the hit show. Mash. Denise Gaudett won a dream date with Richard Lally as they both did a wonderful job in the dating game. Dance Day at Sparc Park was a great success. Billy Flynn won most original costume for his new wave costume. Rusty Leonard won best dancer and Tom and Corey Machado danced the afternoon away.

Sparc Park visited Andover lanes where Kelley Bellisle and Stephen Good showed exceptional bowling talents. Paula Ouellette and Denise Gaudett were two high scorers for their teams. John Casanave displayed his unique bowling techniques. Sparc had a great time at the Peanut Carnival. All Sparcers helped to run a spin-art table at the carnival, in which money collected was used for ice cream sundaes. Linda Hinkley and Laurel Taylor had by far the most creative sundaes. This summer Sparc Park competed in the Tewksbury/Wilmington Superstars competition. All of Sparc had a fantastic day as they competed amongst some tough competition. Linda Hinkley came in first in both the 300 yard run and the 30-yard dash. Beth Madden and Joanne Conners both placed for Sparc. Pamela McEvoy and Kelley Bellisle both showed lots of competitive spirit, as they also placed in some racing events. The hockey shot competition was a real success as Richard Lally and Scott Silva headed Sparc to victory.

If there is one crazy activity geared for the summer, it has to be a pie-eating contest - especially with blueberry pies. When the participants from the Andover playgrounds got their teams together for the contest recently, everyone found that winning was not, in fact, as easy as pie! ## George—Gable

Mrs. Douglas T. George

Ellen Jeanne Gable, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Gable of Andover, was married Saturday, June 27, to Douglas Tryan George, the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. George of Akron, Ohio.

The 5 p.m. ceremony was held at Christ Church, with the Rev. Donald Woodard officiating.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a traditional gown of chiffon with a flowing cathedral-length skirt. The bodice was of Alencon lace with a Queen Anne neckline. Her cathedral-length veil was also trimmed with Alencon lace.

Alison M. Cleveland of Andover attended as maid of honor, and bridesmaids included Cynthia L. Walsh, Julie Ann George, Linda C. Gable and Janice A. Gable.

Kevin McChesney of Key West, Florida, served as best man, and ushers included Jeffrey R. Gable, David L. Gable, Gregory T. George and Kenneth P. George.

The groom's nieces, Jennifer M. George and Carrie E. Mitchell were flower girls and the groom's nephew, Jeffrey M. George was the ring bearer.

A dinner reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the Lanam Club, and the couple left on a wedding trip to Bermuda.

The new Mrs. George graduated from Andover High and the University of Miami, where she majored in exceptional citizen education.

Her husband is a graduate of Walsh Jesuit High and the University of Miami, where he majored in construction management. He is office manager for a construction firm in Ohio, where they will be making their home.

Northampton case, permits applicants for positions in municipal government to request that their names not be released to the press. Such a release could constitute an invasion of privacy. It could have an adverse effect upon an applicant's attempt to obtain future employment, or his ability to function in the job he then held, and/or his standing in the community.

5. The final applicants, upon questioning, requested the Board of Selectmen to withhold their names and subsequently the Acting Town Manager, having again queried the candidates, put their requests into an affidavit based on the belief of the candidates that release would constitute an invasion of privacy.

Lastly, let us emphasize that selection of a Town Manager is a function of the Board of Selectmen. The Board is empowered to hire and dismiss the manager. The board also has a moral right not to be influenced in its selection by outside forces. The Board does not meet in "secret," it can meet in executive session under certain conditions. The work of the Board has been seriously interfered with in this particular selection process. Let us hope that it does not happen again.

Against "Public" Arena

To The Editor Of The Townsman:

What does it take to make our State and Federal Legislatures understand the fact that any government entity cannot efficiently or profitably operate a business such as the MBTA or AMTRAK, to name a few.

Now our U.S. Senator and his colleagues are continuously proposing to have the state or City of Boston build and operate a sports arena!

Based on the past experience of our "publicly operated" private enterprises, I simply cannot comprehend their insistence in becoming involved with these matters. The losses generated by these ventures will ultimately be passed on to the citizens of the Commonwealth in the form of higher taxes.

There are many private investors who have expressed an interest in the project. Let's not get involved in competing with them.

Blood Donors Needed

The American Red Cross Blood Services—Northeast Region has issued a "blood alert" that blood supplies are at a critically low level. In order to meet the needs of patients in nearly 200 hospitals in Massachusetts and Maine, 2,000 additional donors must give blood during the next week in the two-state region.

"When supplies decline to this level we must alert the community," said Thomas Schroot, administrator of the Blood Services Northeastern Massachusetts Center. "We are calling upon all eligible donors to visit the Red Cross donor center at Bon Secours Hospital in Methuen or to donate blood at the most convenient community bloodmobile."

Schroot explained that while the demand for blood remains fairly constant throughout the year, blood donors are less available during the summer.

Any healthy adult who weighs at least 110 pounds and has never had hepatitis is urged to donate blood at the Merrimac

Valley donor center on the grounds of the Bon Secours Hospital, 70 East St., Methuen, 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday and Friday, or 1:30 to 9 p.m., Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Elderly Lunch Program Moves To Shawsheen

The senior citizen lunch program will be on the move once again come September — this time to Shawsheen School.

A meeting of school and town officials Tuesday morning worked out the new arrangement, after it became clear that West Elementary School will be too crowded with pupils to handle the elders again this school year. The program has continued there through the summer.

Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert said Tuesday night that because of the closing of Shawsheen as an elementary school, West will have more than 150 additional pupils this fall. That will extend the lunch hour and would mean that the elderly would have to have their lunches as late as 1:30 or 1:45, he said.

The Andover Haven, the senior center in the old Theatre building, was also ruled out for the lunch program because there wouldn't be room to feed them and still carry on the many other activities for senior citizens.

Seifert said he and acting Town Manager Tony Torrisi, Cafeteria Director Dick Barron, Haven director Dot Winn, Council on Aging Chairman Tom Powers and Selectman Ed Harris had concluded that over the "short haul," Shawsheen School would be most acceptable.

The building has already taken in the Department of Community Services and Special Needs offices in preparation for the demolition of Stowe and Jackson Schools, and the school administration offices are scheduled to move there shortly. Seifert said that a section of Shawsheen has been set aside for a conference area and as a place for school committee meetings. He said the lunch program could fit in there for now. Long-term, he indicated that Shawsheen might be needed for other uses, "maybe" even as a school, should enrollments take a turn upward.

Seifert said Tuesday morning's "healthy" discussion pointed up the need for a more positive attitude toward the elderly in Andover. The town as a whole ought to pull together to provide for them, he said, noting that there are at least 4,000 residents in town over 60.

Bike Paths

Bicycling is a popular form of short-distance transportation, as well as a popular recreational activity, especially during the summer. On marked bike paths, cyclists have as much right of way as motorists do in their own lanes. So, look out for each other and yield accordingly, advises the ALA Auto and Travel Club.

Refreshments will be available and guests are encouraged to bring their cameras. Admission and parking are free.

School Board May Rule On Exceptions To New Bus Policy Next Week

By Linda S. Corbett

Andover parents who have asked to have their school bus service restored out of concern for the safety of their children, could get their replies next week.

Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert told the school committee and about three dozen parents Tuesday night that a special safety committee has examined all of the appeals from parents, and that the situations the committee considered most potentially dangerous will be further scrutinized by the police chief and transportation assistant later this week.

After meeting with them, Seifert said, he will make his recommendations for exceptions, if any, to the school committee at their next meeting.

While a meeting date had not been set as of press time, the committee hoped to meet Monday or Tuesday of next week, so parents would have plenty of time to make other arrangements if their youngsters aren't put back on buses.

The committee will also make a second and final pass on the bus policy that got their preliminary nod Tuesday night.

The policy basically puts into writing the changes the committee made last spring when they cut the transportation budget. Buses will be provided only for elementary youngsters who live more than a mile and a half from school and secondary youngsters who live more than two miles. There will be centralized bus stops, with no pupil having to walk more than a mile to his or her stop.

The committee also included noontime buses for kindergartners who live more than a mile.

They decided to express in the policy that no deviations can be made without their consent, and that in considering exceptions, the committee will be governed by reason, concern for safety and fiscal prudence.

They said that the distance from school would continue to be measured as it has in the past, from a family's property line nearest the school, to the nearest public access to the school property.

Seifert said that the current measuring tool used to determine what streets are excluded from busing, is the odometer of Transportation Assistant Kathleen Casey's car. Casey said she has driven all of the streets listed in last week's TOWNSMAN in the walking category.

Several parents took issue with measuring to the access road to school, contending that at the high school, for instance, the front door is another two-tenths of a mile in from the street.

The committee however, said that had never been an issue with the many walkers in the past, and that they would continue to use those guidelines.

To parents who contended that there will be a safety problem created at the schools when buses, car pools and more walkers all converge at the same time, School Chairman Joseph Finn replied that the school department would take "reasonable precautions" on the school grounds.

Committeeman Mike Giammusso charged that the parents were "outpacing" on the measurements, and said they should be discussing a philosophy instead. When the committee gets to the point of talking about deviations, he said, they most likely will be talking about neighborhoods, not individual houses in those neighborhoods.

"I would like to think the community is enlightened enough," Giammusso went on, "that someone who lived more than two miles from school but had a very, very safe walk to school, would be willing to walk those two miles to let someone else ride."

Finn noted that exceptions to the bus policy will be made only in the "most dangerous" situations, as determined by the committee, and said that parents would have to accept the responsibility for the safety of their children in many cases.

Condo Bylaw May Be Losing Some Support

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Should the selectmen continue to press their appeal against the attorney general's ruling that Andover's condominium conversion bylaw, approved by 1981 town meeting, is illegal? Or should they drop their appeal and let unregulated condominium conversion continue in Andover?

The selectmen expect to make that decision Monday night, after a discussion that will begin at 7:30 p.m. at Memorial Hall Library. And a number of Washington Park residents — who were among the chief supporters of the bylaw at town meeting — are expected to argue against continuing the appeal.

Although town meeting voted overwhelmingly in favor of the condo conversion bylaw, developed by the selectmen at the Council on Aging's request, public opinion may now be turning against the law. Acting Town Manager Tony Torrisi indicated yesterday

"There was quite a bit of emotion surrounding the bylaw when it was passed," Torrisi explained, "but now it seems to be shifting in the other direction. The board would like any interested party, whether in favor of continuing the appeal or dropping it, to come Monday night. They want to hear both sides."

Many Washington Park tenants lobbied for the condo conversion bylaw, hoping it would offer them some protection against the long-anticipated conversion of the North Main Street complex. The bylaw would require developers to obtain a special permit from the Zoning Board of Appeals before converting rental units into condominiums, and to give tenants one year's notice before requiring them to leave.

Last month, Attorney General Francis X. Bellotti ruled that the town has no power to enact the bylaw, and Town Counsel Alfred Daniels has filed an appeal against that ruling in Salem Superior Court. Daniels has said the State Supreme Court could hear the case as early as October.

But one week before Bellotti's decision was announced, Washington Park was sold to Cohen Properties of Brookline for condominium conversion. And, attracted by a 12 percent discount of up to $10,000 on the selling price of their own units, a number

New Lieutenant Pledges His Best

Lt. Robert B. Parker

Andover resident Robert B. Parker, 53, had a lot to celebrate last weekend: Saturday marked the 32nd anniversary of his marriage to his wife, Lois, and Sunday, he was promoted to lieutenant in the Andover Police Department.

Lt. Parker, a member of the police department since 1962 when he joined the reserves, has served as a detective sergeant for the past eight years. He was named to a permanent position on the police force in 1964, and from 1969 to 1974, served as a desk sergeant.

As a detective sergeant, Parker was in charge of plainclothes police investigations, including such responsibilities as finger-printing and photography. As a lieutenant, he will now serve as commander of the early night shift of patrolmen.

After nearly 20 years with the Andover Police, Parker observes that "the problems are basically the same — but there are more of them. The population and the police department have both doubled."

Unlike some townspeople, he does not believe that drug abuse is a major problem in Andover. "We have no more or less drug use than any similar community," he points out.

The town has more trouble by far with breaking and entering, Parker says, call-

Town must go public

Nothing more effectively disarms a gossip than the fullest publicity about the actions of those against whom the gossip is directed.

Conversely, nothing more excites suspicion than actions taken in secret.

That is a lesson most people learn rather early and rather easily.

It is a lesson most public officials learn their first week on the job.

Alas, the Andover Board of Selectmen, composed, in the main, of experienced public officials, has yet to learn that lesson.

Their action this week in naming a town manager in secret and without revealing the names of the final four candidates to the press and public resulted in a shadow being cast over the entire process, the selectmen themselves and, even, the town of Andover.

As a newspaper dedicated to bringing as much of the truth as we can garner to our subscribers, The Townsman salutes The Lawrence Eagle-Tribune, the daily newspaper serving this area, for not allowing Andover's business to be hidden from the taxpayers and for, in fact, taking the bold step of going to court to assure that the public's right not only to know, but to be involved in the processes of government, was protected.

We disagree, in outrage, with a letter from the Board of Selectmen which alleges that the board has a "moral right" not to be influenced by "outside forces" in the selection of a town manager.

Since when are the taxpayers — the people who vote and who pay the bills — considered "outside" by a Board of Selectmen?

Those "outsiders" are, in reality, the selectmen's employers, the very people to whom the selectmen should be owing allegiance.

The selectmen's letter to the Townsman missed the real issue, which is whether the selectmen or the people have final authority.

If it is the people, as we believe our forefathers ordained, then the people, not just the selectmen, must always be fully informed about Andover's business.

Lord Acton put the matter succinctly when he said, "Everything secret degenerates, even the administration of justice; nothing is safe that does not show it can bear discussion and publicity."

We can only hope that the business of Andover will degenerate no further.

The Ultimate Responsibility

We were still in wool jackets last spring when the school committee was deep into budget deliberations, trying to live within a self-imposed 6 percent increase and then within the confines of Prop 2½. The town was forewarned that the luxurious "door to door" school bus service might have to go; and when the decision came to cut the budget and drop about a thousand riders - putting the responsibility for getting them to school once again on the parents - there was scarcely a peep from the community.

Now, in the dog days of summer, with school just around the corner and the new policy practically etched in stone, reality has become painful.

Some parents have scrambled for their yardsticks to measure the distance from school in every imaginable combination of ways, while others ask why do my neighbor's kids ride and mine don't? They're comparing narrow roads to river bridges and fast trains to Raytheon traffic, in an effort to be excepted from walking because it's "too dangerous," while charging that the school committee doesn't care.

Perhaps we should all sit a spell in an airconditioned coach and consider that Andover bus service has always been just that - a SERVICE. What is REQUIRED - in this case by state law - will continue to be provided: busing of elementary youngsters who live more than a mile and a half from school and secondary ones who live more than two miles.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago - August 1906

During the absence of Superintendent Palmer school certificates will be issued by Albert W. Lowe at his drug store.

Among the recent gifts to Phillips Academy, announced by Principal Stearns at the Alumni Dinner, is one of special interest because of the object for which it is given. Mrs. R.A. Carter, well known in Andover, donates $1500 as a scholarship in aid of deserving students who are obliged to work their way through school.

"What is the North Andover tax rate for the ensuing year?" is a question the citizens of that town are asking one another and thus far no one seems to have been able to answer it. The selectmen are puzzled and no amount of figuring on cuff or wristband has as yet brought forth a solution.

One of the most important business transfers which has been recorded in Andover for some time occurred this week when the fish market owned by T.J. Farmer was sold to John A. Collins and his son, Fred Collins. They are both well known men and are extremely popular. Mr. Farmer retires from business life after almost 20 years in the local field.

After two weeks of straight musical comedy at Glen Forest next week beginning Monday will see the first vaudeville of the season in full swing. Ladies and children free as usual on Monday afternoon.

50 Years Ago - August 1931

William T. Tilden, 2nd, "the greatest of them all," lanky, bronzed by the sun, and as witty as ever, came to Shawsheen Village yesterday afternoon, was seen by some 300 tennis enthusiasts from Andover, Lawrence and Boston, and conquered two crack tennis players in singles but lost to them in doubles at the Balmoral Courts.

The assessors have awarded the contract for the painting of the South Church to Edward M. Seabury of Wakefield, and the work has already been started. The church, when the painting is finished, will be white.

Traffic officers who will be on duty in Andover square this summer are going to be a bit more comfortable on the hot days, for they will no longer have to stand under the broiling sun. Motorcycle Officer David Gillespie and Billie Brown, town hall janitor, have built a new traffic box which will be placed in the square shortly. An umbrella will top it to protect the officer on duty from the sun.

Excavation in preparation for laying the four-lane highway which will link Reading with Andover was begun on Monday morning by Patrick J. Holland of Lawrence. A large steam shovel started on Monday to eat its way along the westerly side of North Main street in Reading and during the week four more have been put to work so that there is now a steam shovel for every mile of construction.

Six books belonging to the Andover library, and two belonging to the library at Phillips Andover Academy have been recovered from the Boston police department by Miss Edna A. Brown, town librarian. The books were said to have been taken by a New York doctor recently arrested in Revere and charged with stealing books from New England libraries.

25 Years Ago - August 1956

The annual outing of the Andover playgrounds will be held this year on Tuesday at Canobie Lake Park, New Hampshire. This year's outing is being anticipated with greater anticipation than usual since last year's outing was called off because of the polio threat. With all of Andover's school children now inoculated with Salk vaccine, there is little threat from the source at the present time.

In the distribution of tax receipts by the Commonwealth to the state's 351 cities and towns which has been certified by Tax Commissioner John L. Dane, Jr., the sum of $98,652 has been designated for Andover.

SPECIAL WEEKLY

U.S. cities threatened by our own nuclear weapons

By Jack Anderson and Joe Spear

WASHINGTON — A nightmarish possibility looms of an American metropolis being devastated by a nuclear weapon triggered not by the Russians but inadvertently by members of the U.S. armed forces responsible for the Pentagon's arsenal of atomic bombs and missiles.

Evidence of this clear and present danger occurred last month in the Caribbean when a Harpoon missile was accidentally fired from the U.S. destroyer Coontz. Fortunately, the Harpoon carries no atomic warhead and the runaway missile fell harmlessly in the sea off the vacation island of St. Croix.

The same launch system which malfunctioned aboard the Coontz, however, is used to fire the Navy's ASROC missile, which does carry a lethal nuclear load. The little-publicized Harpoon incident contained an ominous warning that even the most carefully calculated fail-safe system can fail because of human error.

The nation was rightfully alarmed last September when a 10-megaton Titan II missile erratically exploded out of its Arkansas silo, killing one and injuring 21 other servicemen. The nuclear-tipped weapon luckily failed to create a holocaust but brought to light that since 1975, there had been 241 Titan accidents which took the lives of 56 persons.

From confidential Defense Department files, we've learned of a more insidious nuclear threat that is almost daily endangering American communities. It consists of the shipment of atomic weapons being shuttled constantly back and forth from military bases to inspection sites for routine maintenance.

These routes of potential disaster silently pass through more than 100 U.S. metropolitan areas, my sources tell me. Obviously, utmost precautions are taken to prevent an appalling nuclear accident, but despite official assurances, the impossible could happen.

In the Washington area alone where the nerve centers of the U.S. government are located, there are more than a dozen nuclear weapon facilities.

Another buried fact is the shocking Pentagon finding that some of the servicemen who presumably safeguard the nuclear arsenal are drug users. Astonishingly, 3,000 of them have been relieved from nuclear weapons duty in the past five years because of drug abuse.

Worried high officials inside the Pentagon have quietly informed us that the danger is real and more should be done to prevent a hellish visitation of nuclear disaster upon the American scene.

ALARM BELLS: The death of Panamanian strongman Omar Torrijos in a jungle plane crash a few weeks ago set off jangling alarm bells at President Reagan's State Department, where experts are striving to prevent Central America from collapsing into political chaos.

They had relied on Panama as a stabilizing element in the area where political uncertainty has gripped El Salvador, Nicaragua and Honduras. They now fear that the lack of Torrijos' strong hand at the helm in Panama may precipitate an economic and political crisis in the little country that serves as a canal lifeline to the free world.

Our sources advise that there is small likelihood that Torrijos' hand-picked Panamanian president, Aristides Royo, will be able to hang onto his job until the next presidential election in 1984. They foresee a distinct possibility of a military coup by National Guard generals who were kept in line by Torrijos.

The economic situation in Panama is ripe for trouble. Even before Torrijos died, unemployment had reached 17 percent and offered a festering opportunity for anti-American leftists to capitalize on.

Before his death, the politically popular leader had persuaded Panamanian business and union interests to work with his government on a new labor code, viewed as vital to the country's continued economic stability. The bipartisan commission never completed its work but at least the participants remained on amiable terms.

Without Torrijos operating backstage in calling the shots, Panama may become the next hot spot in Central America.

LUNCHEON GUEST: New Teamsters Union president Roy Williams has become to the Reagan administration like the little man they wish would go away. A few days after being indicted on bribery charges, Williams turned up on the White House doorstep for lunch with the president.

The unsavory record of the Teamsters has been a matter of history since the days of Dave Beck and Jimmy Hoffa and their Mafia minions at the local level. But also on the record was the fact of the union's endorsement of Ronald Reagan for the presidency last year.

Following the luncheon, Labor Secretary Ray Donovan bobbled a hot potato involving Williams and his handling of the multimillion-dollar Teamsters pension funds. Donovan told a Senate investigating subcommittee he lacked authority to remove Williams as head of the union on charges of ties to organized crime figures.

But a still-unpublished subcommittee report declares of the government's failure to take action on pension fund irregularities: "The mixed signals, confusion and changes in the direction of the investigation which began in the early fall of 1976 reflected the historic institutional incapability of the Department of Labor in dealing with labor racketeering."

It will be interesting to learn whether Reagan Cabinet member Donovan will crack down on the Teamsters hierarchy or whether Williams will retain his status as a political sacred cow.

Varsity Sports Get Underway

Athletic Director Dick Swift this week announced the starting dates for several Andover High varsity sports, and also issued a reminder that students planning on participating in the sports programs must present current physical examination forms prior to the first practice.

A "current" physical examination, Swift said, is one that is "satisfactory," and less than a year old. It may be turned in to the coach on the first day of practice.

Physical exam forms may be picked up at the Andover High Athletic Office.

Meanwhile, starting dates for varsity practices are as follows:

Football - Thursday, Aug. 27, 8 a.m.
Boys Soccer - Thursday, Aug. 27, 9 a.m.
Girls Soccer - Wednesday, Aug. 26, 8:30 a.m.

Gold Team Advances In Playoffs

Billy Lane
... game-winning RBI vs. NA

By Rick Harrison

The Andover Gold Babe Ruth baseball team stretched its winning streak to 16 straight games, improved its overall record to 23-2, and moved within one victory of the Greater-Lawrence League playoff championship by sweeping to three impressive playoff wins last week.

Gold, the regular season league champ, opened the playoffs with a solid 12-0 romp over Prospect Hill as undefeated righthander Bill Weidman fired a brilliant one-hit shutout.

Lefthander Billy Vickers followed that with an equally superb one-hit shutout, facing only 22 batters as Andover Gold ousted perennial powerhouse North Andover from the playoffs with a 1-0 triumph at Grogan's Field.

Gold then became the last remaining team with a perfect record under the double-elimination format, slapping intratown rival Andover Blue 12-3 behind the complete-game, five-hit hurling of righthander Mark Grams.

Blue had previously beaten South Lawrence East 7-6, and South Lawrence West 7-2, in its earlier playoff games.

Those results left Andover Gold, South Lawrence West and Andover Blue as the three remaining teams in the original field of six.

This past Monday Blue and SLW, both 2-1, were scheduled to play at Mt. Vernon Park with the loser bowing out and the winner advancing to the final round.

Last night Gold was slated to face Monday's winner, and a game may be necessary tomorrow evening, if Gold lost.

Bill Weidman
... three straight shutouts

Gold, 12-0

Fourteen-year-old righthander Bill Weidman continued his sensational pitching for Gold, boosting his overall record to 6-0 by firing his third straight shutout.

Weidman, who has tossed 22 consecutive scoreless innings, stopped Prospect Hill with a one-hitter while walking only one and striking out two. In those last 22 innings Weidman has permitted just six hits, walked nine and whiffed 13.

Prospect Hill had a little mystery of its own working on the mound, as Russ Lamontagne pitched three frames of two-hit ball before everything collapsed around him.

Slow-starting Gold then erupted to score four times in the fourth, fifth and sixth. Billy Vickers launched the fourth inning uprising with a walk, Scott Zimmerman singled, and Robby Wilson followed with a two-run single. Wilson eventually scored when Billy Lane's infield grounder was misplayed, and Lane raced across on Mark Lefebvre's double.

Babe Ruth

The four-run fifth was highlighted by another two-run single from Wilson, and a run-producing basehit by Billy Lane.

In the sixth Mark Grams led with a long triple to right-centerfield, Vickers spanked an RBI single, Scott Wilkins ripped a double down the leftfield line, a run crossed on a wild pitch, and run-scoring singles were drilled by Shane Smith and Paul Oshan.

The lone Prospect Hill safety was a two-out single to rightfield by Kevin Doyle, who was subsequently thrown out trying to steal.

A walk to Lamontagne in the third, plus a pair of infield errors in the sixth, produced the only other PH baserunners. The visitors did not get a man beyond second base in the game.

Defensive standouts for Gold were second baseman Kraig Burzlaff, who handled seven chances flawlessly, and rightfielder Brian Finnerty, with a fine catch of a long fly by Carlos Santana in the sixth.

Wilson and Grams spiked two hits apiece for Gold.

Gold, 1-0

Gold ended the season early for defending champ North Andover, beating NA for the third time in four meetings as southpaw Billy Vickers and righthander Dave Blackstock hooked up in their third outstanding pitcher's duel this summer.

Blackstock had beaten Gold 1-0 on July 1, the champs' last defeat, but Vickers came back to hurl two beautiful games in 2-1 and 1-0 Gold victories.

It also marked the first time in several years that NA had been shut out.

South Lawrence West had opened the playoffs by edging North Andover 4-2, so the regular season runner-up finished with a 14-5 overall mark.

Vickers, in hiking his personal record to 7-2, missed a no-hitter by inches as Chris Strobel opened the fourth by beating out an infield roller down the thirdbase line. The ball stayed fair by inches, and the eventual throw to first missed getting Strobel by a half-step.

NA had three other baserunners on a walk and two errors, but catcher Mark Grams gunned down two men trying to steal, and shortstop Billy Lane started a crisp 6-4-3 doubleplay to erase another potential threat.

Vickers struck out five, and he had some solid defensive support from Mark Lefebvre in rightfield (two fine running catches in the seventh), Kraig Burzlaff at second (eight chances), Scott Zimmerman in leftfield and Lane at shortstop.

Gold had men on base in every inning except the third against Blackstock, but the only run of the game was scored in the sixth.

Appropriately it was Vickers who scored the run, as he led the inning with a walk and promptly stole second. Rob Wilson's infield out advanced him to third, and consecutive walks to Zimmerman and Steve Dougal loaded the bases.

Billy Lane, who had rapped two sharp singles in his first two trips, went down on the count 0-2 quickly before hanging tough and lofting a long sacrifice fly to deep straightaway centerfield.

Vickers tagged and scored the deciding run easily.

Gold had a runner on second in the opening stanza, as Vickers reached on a fielder's choice and advanced on a wild pitch.

The next inning Dougal walked and Lane singled sharply to left-center, after which a wo-out wild pitch moved the runners to second and third. A strikeout ended this bid.

In the fourth Zimmerman laced a one-out single, took second on Dougal's sacrifice bunt, but was thrown out at the plate trying to score on Billy Lane's single to leftfield.

The last Gold threat occurred in the seventh when Bill Weidman walked, Mark Grams singled down the leftfield line, and Kraig Burzlaff moved both runners up with a perfect sacrifice bunt.

Blackstock escaped the jam, however, on a sharp grounder to the mound and a routine bouncer to second base.

Gold, 12-3

Gold entered this game riding a string of four straight shutouts, but Blue finally snapped the scoreless streak at 30 innings when it pushed across a run in the top of the third.

Gold retaliated with seven runs in the home half, however, and wrapped up the victory with four more in the fourth and a solo run in the fifth.

Mark Grams, beating Blue for the second time and lifting his overall record to 5-0, scattered five hits, walked one and fanned two.

John Geiger started for Blue and gave way to Kurt Smith in the third.

Gold mounted a minor threat in the bottom of the first when Kraig Burzlaff walked and Billy Vickers reached on an infield error.

Dave Laporte opened the second by singling to center for the Blue, and he stole second base, but centerfielder Billy Vickers squashed this threat with a fine running catch of Kurt Smith's deep fly in the gap.

Blue grabbed a brief 1-0 edge in the third when Mike Surette walked. Rob Wilson bunted him along, and Tom Powers lashed a two-out opposite field double down the line in right.

Gold sent 13 batters to the plate in the last of the third, combining three hits, five walks and two hit batsmen into seven runs.

Billy Lane smacked a two-run single. Kraig Burzlaff an RBI single, and Mark Grams also singled. The walks were issued to Billy Vickers, Steve Dougal, Mark Lefebvre, Bill Weidman and Grams. Burzlaff and Rob "Mr. August" Wilson were hit by pitches, and Weidman also lofted a sacrifice fly to rightfield.

Blue threatened in the fourth when Laporte sliced a double down the leftfield line, and Geiger beat out an infield hit up the middle (Laporte holding at second).

Grams bore down at this point, getting Kurt Smith on a grounder to short, and retiring Bob Rikeman and Brett Larrabee on grounders to Burzlaff at second base.

In the four-run Gold fourth, which jumped the score to 11-1, there were walks to Scott Zimmerman and Mark Lefebvre, and singles by Rob Wilson, Bill Weidman and Grams.

Blue added two unearned runs in the fifth, as Powers was safe on a two-out infield error. Mike Gibson hammered a long RBI triple to right-center, and Grams uncorked a wild pitch to score Gibson.

Grams then retired the final seven batters in order.

Gold collected its final run in the bottom of the fifth when Vickers singled, took second on a walk to Wilson, advanced to third on a doubleplay, and scored on Dougal's basehit.

Gold received some solid defensive play from second basemen Mark Doherty (robbing Rikeman of a hit) and Burzlaff, shortstop Zimmerman, first baseman Bill Weidman and Vickers in center.

The Blue turned over a fine DP from shortstop John Geiger to second baseman Tom Powers to first baseman Dave Laporte.

Grams finished the game 2-for-4.

Laporte went 2-for-3 for Blue.

Andover Blue Meets Gold In Showdown

THE TOWNSMAN, AUGUST 13, 1981

David LaPorte
2 playoff wins

Mike Gibson
8 hits in playoffs

Andover Blue took a 3-1 record into the finals against Andover Gold (3-0), thereby needing two wins versus Gold to become playoff champs. Blue nipped South Lawrence East 7-6, topped South Lawrence West 7-2, lost to Gold 12-3, and bombed South Lawrence West again 12-0, to set up the final showdown.

singles by Gibson, LaPorte and John Geiger netted two runs.

Powers faltered in the sixth. Once again, walks did the damage as East scored three times without benefit of a base hit.

Smith was brought in to start the seventh with Blue holding a precarious 7-5 lead. After a leadoff handle hit, Smith struck out Conway. A single to Tanquay then put the tying runs on board. A diving stop in the short stop hole by Geiger got a force out at second as East got its sixth run. East then gambled and tested catcher Rikeman's arm in an attempted steal of second. Rikeman's perfect throw to Powers ended the comeback attempt and preserved Blue's victory.

Tom Powers gave up just five hits, but struggled with control problems in nipping East 7-6 at the Stadium Aug. 3. Powers (5-0) got relief help from Kurt Smith in the seventh to record his fourth save.

Blue opened up a 5-0 lead with two in the first and three in the second. Powers singled. Mike Gibson tripled to score Powers, and then scored himself on an infield bouncer by Dave LaPorte.

In the second, Bob Rikeman walked. Brett Larrabee and Mike Surette singled to load the bases. Rob Wilson hit a sacrifice fly to score Rikeman, and Powers did the same to score Larrabee. Gibson then singled home Surette for a five-run lead.

East got two back in the bottom half of the second when Powers walked four and gave up a lone single to Mike Fiato.

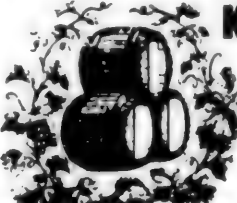

Blue upped its lead to 7-2 with two more in the fourth. After two outs, Powers reached on an error and three consecutive

South Lawrence West 2

David LaPorte (1-1) went the distance allowing just five hits and one earned run to lead Blue over West 7-2 at Andover High School Aug. 6.

Blue started fast once again. Four runs in the bottom of the second gave Blue more than enough margin. Rob Wilson doubled. Tom Powers and Mike Gibson walked. LaPorte bounced out scoring Wilson. John Geiger singled scoring Powers. Smith reached on a fielder's choice which cut down Geiger at second and advanced Gibson to third. After Smith stole second, Bob Rikeman singled them both home for a 4-0 lead.

LaPorte gave up one run in the top of the third on a walk to Vin Delsignore, a booming double by Bill Ballageron and single by Kevin Sullivan. But Blue answered with three more in their half of the third after two were out. Geiger singled. Smith walked and Rikeman singled home Geiger. Both Smith and Rikeman moved up on a wild pitch and scored on Brett Larrabee's single.

LaPorte gave up his last run in the fourth when Delsignore struck out but reached when the ball skipped by catcher Rikeman. Glenn McIntosh reached on an error moving Delsignore to third where he scored on a wild pitch.

LaPorte struck out six and walked five in going the distance. LaPorte, Geiger and Rikeman had two hits each for Blue.

Andover Blue 12 South Lawrence West 0

With the loss to Gold, Blue now was faced with having to win three straight games without a loss. They took the first step with a 12-0 trouncing of West at Mount Vernon Field in Lawrence Monday night.

David LaPorte (2-1) threw a two-hit, shutout, struck out 10 and walked just four in going the distance. Blue banged out 13 hits in shelling Silvio Laudani for the second straight time. Blue scored in every inning but the first and seventh. John Geiger tripled and scored the first run of the game on a long sacrifice fly by Kurt Smith in the second inning.

In the third, Brett Larrabee singled and moved to second on an infield hit by Rob Wilson. Tom Powers doubled to left scoring Larrabee and Mike Gibson hit a vicious line drive to left scoring Wilson and making Blue's lead 3-0.

Three singles, a walk and a fielder's choice got two more runs in the fourth. A five run fifth put the game out of reach. Powers singled and Gibson hit another shot to left for a double. LaPorte, Geiger and Smith then all walked for two runs. Bob Rikeman singled for another run. Larrabee walked forcing in the fourth run of the inning and the final tally registered on an infield error.

Blue closed out the scoring in the sixth on a triple by Gibson, walk to Geiger and tremendous double by Smith which narrowly missed going out in the left field corner.

Mike Gibson rapped 3 hits; Wilson, Powers, Geiger and Rikeman 2 hits each. Smith had 4 RBIs and Larrabee 2. Smith was outstanding defensively starting a 4-6-3 double play on Ballageron in the fourth and stealing a hit from Laudani with a going-away, over-the-head catch in short right field in the same inning.

Blue was to meet Gold yesterday, with a win necessary to force a deciding game tomorrow. Gold needs just one victory to complete their season and become playoff champs as well as regular season champions. Blue entered Wednesday's game with a 14-7 record.

Eugene S. Tworek, project supervisor for PRC Jacobs, stresses that the new values represent only assessment changes and that the dollar amount of future tax bills cannot be estimated until Andover's tax rate is established later this year.

Among the data still needed are the values of some 400 commercial and industrial properties. Reassessments are being completed in that department and state certification will be necessary before they can be added to the base for the town's assessment roll.

Property owners who question the new values can take the matter up with PRC Jacobs, and Russell said he hopes residents will do so.

The questions will be addressed at an informal hearing with PRC Jacobs, then with the board of assessors and finally, if necessary, with the Appellate Tax Board.

PRC Jacobs will conduct informal hearings by appointment only, within 10 days of receipt of the Notice of Assessment Change. All notices should be delivered by Aug. 21, and the hearings are expected to be completed within three to four weeks.

Residents who want hearings or who do not receive their valuation notice, should contact PRC Jacobs at 475-0635.

Completion of the revaluation project assures compliance with the mandate of the Supreme Judicial Court that all properties in the Commonwealth be assessed "fairly and equitably" at full and fair cash value.

Jacobs, a McLean, Va., firm, began collecting data for the revaluations about a year ago. Among the factors they considered were neighborhood, size of house, size of property, number of rooms, and the like.

to work and "getting a feel for it again" has been fun, Buschmann says. Now she looks forward to using the runner's log as a springboard for a whole line of sports logs, with future efforts tailored to suit bicyclists, bowlers and other sports enthusiasts.

Her future as a freelancer is still a rather distant dream, however, she points out. "I'll just start with this one for now," she says, laughing.

One thing she hadn't planned on was using the runner's log herself. Buschmann has always left running to her husband and two oldest children, while counting on tennis and chasing Erika to keep her in shape.

But the log has sparked a new enthusiasm for running in its creator. "I think I'm getting the bite," Buschmann says, grinning. "I might just end up out on the road myself."

Bus Policy

Colleague Donald Robb added that there were a lot of situations where there were "clearly problems," even though they might not be "extreme," and that in those cases, the school department would make "every effort" to cooperate with parents to help them set up car pools, parent patrols and other types of committees. He said many parents are already attempting to cope with problem situations in their own neighborhoods.

To parents who said they would gladly have their children walk if there were sidewalks, Robb said that for a number of years children have been walking to school in Andover, and not necessarily with sidewalks. In fact, he said, most areas of town do not have them.

"Every time someone suggests that parents can do something," Robb went on, "we have a number of people who tell us why they can't."

But reason, he said, "has to work both ways. There will have to be some reasonable and difficult choices on the part of the parents as well as the school committee."

June Blake, president of the South School PTO, who has been working with the administration and bus drivers on the possibility of independent bus routes paid for by parents, said that flyers would be sent home with all school youngsters - elementary and secondary - during the first week of school. She said that only when they get some idea of the number of pupils who will ride, can they set up routes or give people a set price. However, she said bus fares will probably run between $100 and $125 per child per year.

The petitions filed with the superintendent for review of "dangerous" situations, had been divided into three categories. Seifert said Tuesday night: those that are not a problem, those that might be acceptable with the addition of a crossing guard, and those where a potential safety problem exists.

It's that third category that's getting another look this week, before Seifert makes recommendations to the school committee on possible exceptions. Only the most serious situations will get seats on buses, he said, on a priority basis as space exists.

He said they would take into consideration the suggestion of one parent Tuesday night that they allow standees on the buses. The school committee's revised policy includes a "no standee" statement.

from the total of $34,000,000. This will be entered on the town's books as receipts and will go into available funds for the conduct of Andover's business.

The question of whether or not Andover will adopt a town manager form of government will be voted on at the annual town election in March. The legislative committee on towns which held a hearing on the matter in Andover a few weeks ago has reported the bill favorably to be voted on by residents of the town when they go to the polls to select their town officials.

A committee from St. Matthew's Lodge, A.F. and A.M., appeared at Monday's meeting of the board of selectmen and offered to rent a section of their Elm street home for use as a police station. The committee pointed out that the lodge would only rent office space, and would not allow the placing of police cells in the building. At the present time, Andover is without a lock-up. The renovations now taking place in the town building caused the cells to be removed.

Reassuring news for bathers and the parents of bathers at Pomp's Pond was received at the board of health office on Tuesday. The report was from the state department of public health and concerned analysis of samples of water from the bathing beach. The report stated that the water was free of impurities and was "excellent for bathing purposes."

10 Years Ago — August 1971

Bicycles are being stolen in Andover at an alarming rate, according to local officials, who have requested the assistance of owners and parents in curbing the activity. Police Chief David L. Nicoll reports that 24 bicycles were recorded stolen last month, the worst record of such thievery in recent years.

The voice and talent of a great American was silenced by death this week. The great Louis "Satchmo" Armstrong passed away Tuesday, following a lengthy illness. Satchmo's gravel voice, and golden trumpet brought joy to millions, not only in America, but throughout the world.

A ban on outdoor burning is now in effect in Andover. Fire Chief Henry L. Hilton reported this week the prohibiting of all burning, including covered barrels, is now in effect and subject to enforcement. The ban on outdoor burning began state-wide a year ago, but Andover, among other communities, was given a grace period, until such time as proper disposal facilities became available.

The second fact finding between the town and the police department is scheduled for Friday morning. The police department has been without a contract for some time following a break down of negotiations between the two parties. Negotiations broke down several months ago regarding holiday, vacation and other allowances and working conditions in the police contract.

Condos

of tenants have apparently elected to buy condos.

Andover Atty. Richard Sullivan, who lives at Washington Park and is representing a group of tenants who plan to buy, said yesterday tenants have until Aug. 21 to make 10 percent down payments and sign purchase and sale agreements for the units.

Those tenants have received letters — unsigned and with no letterhead — warning that by appealing the attorney general's ruling, the selectmen have "made bank financing extremely difficult which may require the owner to provide his own financing. If this happens...there will be a substantial increase in cost which will be passed on to you the buyer."

The letter adds that a condominium conversion fee of one percent of the gross selling price, recently approved by the selectmen, "has been passed on to the buyers."

In the letter, tenants are urged to contact each of the selectmen and appear at Monday night's meeting to "request them to have the Town Counsel withdraw both the permit fee and the appeal. This would allow the conversion to proceed smoothly without substantially increasing your costs." The letter included the selectmen's telephone numbers.

Atty. Sullivan said the prospective buyers fear they may lose both their down payments and their "right to buy the place at all," as long as the town's appeal is pending.

According to the letter, "the marketing program at Washington Park has been an outstanding success. To date, 151 out of 157 units have been sold and the sales prices have been increased 25 percent from the initial introductory market prices.

"When this is added to the tenant's discount of 12 percent," the letter continues, "the tenants have realized an approximate 40 percent increase in the value of their condominium."

Torrissi pointed out that the town does "not usually push too heavily" against a decision by the attorney general. He added that if the board elects to continue the appeal, the process is likely to move slowly, since the courts are backlogged with appeals.

Local Winners In Bridge Meet

Three pairs involving Andover residents were winners in their sections in the Gold-er Master Pairs, a one-day championship in which 1,984 players competed at the 1981 Summer North American Bridge Championships in Boston recently.

The pairs were Ann Reynolds, 24 Sheridan Road, and Patricia Dye, 25 Smithshire Estates; Elaine Driben, 10 Poplar Terrace, and Judy Weiner of Salem, N.Y.; and Betty and Dick Potter, 1 Monahan.

The event was among four North American championships, 12 lesser title races, and 50 other events which drew 6,000 players to 10 days of competition. Bridge players of every class of skill compete during the meet, one of the three major tournaments each year sponsored by the ACBL.

In ancient Rome, unmarried girls were prohibited by law from wearing pearls. Instead, the pearls were worn by young men, who placed the pearls in tiny bells which, hanging from their ears, tinkled gaily.

Japanese Beetles

Japanese Beetles, first documented in the U.S. in southern New Jersey in 1916, have spread to 23 states and are steadily increasing their sphere of operations.

These destructive garden pests have a voracious appetite and eagerly devour at least 275 different varieties of flowers, plants, vegetables, even tree blossoms. They're particularly fond of roses, and since they're alien to North America, have few natural enemies here.

According to the National Energy Watch, light-colored draperies or covers with light liners in the windows will cut off more heat than dark ones.

It's three o'clock, school is out and the etcetera station wagon is just rolling into the farm driveway at 111 Reservation Road, Andover. Chattering children from public schools all over town pile out and race to stow away their bookbags and jackets, wash up and find a place at the snack table. The etcetera day has begun.

etcetera inc. was opened on Feb. 4, 1980, by Virginia Maxfield, a certified teacher who believes there is a need for an after-school enrichment program for children of working parents seeking a creative, caring environment for their six to 12 year olds. Beginning with less than a handful of children in the delightful setting of the old farm buildings and surrounding meadowlands, the program has more than doubled in enrollment before the beginning of the last school year.

On Sept. 3, etcetera will reopen for boys and girls in grades one through six; it will follow the school calendar exactly, and will open from 3 to 5:30 p.m. every school day.

There will be a regular enrichment program with major emphasis on life skills, exploration of our natural world, and healthful recreational activities. There will also be an opportunity for children to talk with caring adults and do their homework, if they wish. There will be a ratio of one adult to eight children.

If you would like to learn more about etcetera, you are cordially invited to attend an OPEN INFORMATION MEETING on THURSDAY, AUG. 20, 8 p.m., at 111 Reservation Road, Andover. Please telephone 470-0640.

This photograph, taken over 50 years ago, depicts this beautiful old house in its elegant surroundings. Built in 1796 on land passed from father to son since 1663, the gracious Georgian Colonial contains twelve spacious rooms, many with fireplaces, raised paneling, antique brasses and detailed mouldings. The original part of the house has seen little alterations and retains all of its beauty. Adjacent to the house on the two acres are the carriage shed, main barn and granary. The property is in a choice location in historic Andover.

TITLE INSURANCE

Title insurance spares the buyer from parting with his purchase money and then discovering a faulty condition of the title.

Public records that affect titles are not always completely accurate. For instance, there may be errors or omissions in recording deeds or mortgages, assessments and judgments. These, or other defects, can crop up affecting or even voiding the title. Title insurance allows the buyer to breathe easier. It assures him that he has clear title to the property.

However, title insurance protects only against undisclosed defects, not those known at the time the policy is issued. But by calling attention to them, it places the burden of their removal upon the seller, depending on the terms of the contract.

There is only a one-time premium — paid when the policy is issued. The coverage continues as long as you or your heirs hold title to the property.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

School Lunches Up Again

Andover school lunches are "still a good deal," the school committee said Tuesday night, as they voted 4-0 to increase the prices by 15 cents for the coming school year.

Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert reported Tuesday night that the federal budget has "significantly" cut the school lunch program and that if the prices to students weren't increased by 15 cents, they'd have to dip into the regular school budget to make up the deficit.

He said the Federal government has cut out reimbursements for milk for youngsters who bring their lunches but buy their milk at school.

The committee cooperated by upping the price of milk to 15 cents a carton. Lunches at the high school will now be 75 cents, while lunches in the junior high and elementary schools will be 65 cents.

"Sixty-five cents is still very reasonable," Seifert said, when one looks at a quarter pounder for $1.30."

He also noted that free and reduced lunch programs will be somewhat curtailed, but applications for those programs will be sent home with students during the first week of school.

ing that "absolutely the major problem" in Andover.

What does he hope to accomplish in his new role with the police department? "I would like to do well by the town and by myself," Lt. Parker says simply. "Just do my best to do the job."

A Lynn native, Parker and his family have lived in Andover for 26 years. He and his wife are the parents of four children; two are now married.

The lieutenant is a past master of St. Matthew's Masonic Lodge, and a member of the New England Narcotics Association, the Massachusetts Narcotics Association and the Massachusetts Police Association. He is also treasurer of the Andover Police Relief Association, and a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.
